TRAINING PACKAGE

The VR end to end process for The Buckner Groups' training package is divided into three parts:

Development

Analysis of the business training needs and requirements, training design, filming and editing ready for deployment.

Execution

Deploy the training modules to the system. Trainees will be requested to execute the training with the final purpose of being able to learn an entire process or subject.

Evaluation

The training and management platform will provide a system to evaluate the learner's progress and manage your training portfolio.
